LITTLE JERRY, THE MILLER. Beneath the bill you may see the mfil, Of wasting wood and crumbling stone; The wheel is dripping and clattering still, But Jerry, the miller, is dead and gone.

Year after year, early and late. Alike in summer and winter weather, He pecked the stones and calked the gate And mill and miller grew old together. "Little Jerry !"--'twas all the same-They loved him well who called him so; And whether he'd ever another name,

Nobody ever seemed to know. "Iwas " Little Jerry, come grind my rye;" And "Little Jerry, come grind my wheat;'
And "Little Jerry" was still the cry,

From matron bold and matron sweet. "Twas "Little Jerry" on every tongue, And thus the simple truth was told: For Jerry was little when he was young, And Jerry was little when he was old.

But what in size he chanced to lack, That Jerry made up in being strong; I've seen a sack upon his back As thick as the miller, and quite as long

Always busy and always merry, Always doing his very best A notable was was little Jerry, Who uttered with his standing jest-"When will you grind my corn, I say?"

"Nay," quoth Jerry, "you needn't scold; Just leave your grist for half a day, And never fear but you'll be TOLLED.' How Jerry lived is known to fame, But how he died there's none may know:

One autumn day the rumor came, "The brook and Jerry are very low." And then 'twas whispered mournfully The leech had come and he was dead; And all the neighbors flocked to see;—

"Poor Little Jerry!" was all they said. They laid him in his earthy bed-His miller's cost his only shroud-"Dust to dust" the parson said, And all the people wept aloud. For he had shunned the deadly sin, . And not a grain of over toll

Had ever dropped into his bin, To weigh upon his parting soul, Beneath the hill there stands the mill, The wheel is dripping and clattering stift. But Jerry, the miller, is dead and gone.

Truth from the Record of 1864. SHODDY AGAINST THE PRIVATE SOL

CLYMER FOR THE SOLDIER!

The disunion press is full of lies in regard to the action of the Democratic Senators in ter its organization, viz.: on the 30th of minister and the private soldier in gold.—

March, 1864, Senator Hopkins offered the Why, to-day, do you continue to pay him who is basking and revealing in the smites following resolution: (See Record, page 536.) Relations be instructed to bring in a joint resolution instructing our Senators and requesting our Representatives in Congress to vote for a law requiring the payment of non-commissioned officers and privates in

I did not know, sir, that the Senator from Washington (Mr. Hopkins) was about to them. We will stand by the Constitution

I presume he designed to perform an act of simple justice to those who, on the tented field, are struggling for the maintenance of this Government. He himself avows of this Government. He himself avows his intention to place this meritorious class of our fellow-citizens, as far as relates to their pay, upon a footing with those sleek, well paid, well fed, truly loyal, and most discrete gentlemen who, in this time of trial, are idling sunny hours in the courts of Europe as our foreign ministers, while the soldier is enduring the pains, the trials and the dangers of a campaign. Contemplate the picture; the one class clothed in purple and paid in gold, the other clad in home-spun and paid in greenbacks! The one surrounded by all the luxury which gold can buy, the other in their individual per-sons and in their families enduring all the want and misery which paper money ever entails! An unpredjudiced observer, sir, would not; it seems to me, be likely to at-ribute any sinister or improper motive to one who attempts to equalize in some degree the condition of these two classes. salaries of our foreign ministers, ranging from seven to twenty thousand a year, paid

If gold at the end of any month is sixty per cent. above greenbacks, the common soldier will receive twenty dollars and eighty cents, instead of thirteen dollars, for his months services. If you were honest in your proposition to increase his pay, how can you object? When he entered the service, his pay was thirteen dollars per month in gold, for then gold was not above par. The resolution simply proposes to keep our plighted faith with the most meritorious of all public servants; with him who defends our homes and our firesides. Tell me, gentlemen, were you honest or dishonest in your proposition? You shall not evade an answer by calling me disloyal. The word has no terrors for 1864, before the Senate was organized. Af- me. We defy you to make them; good. This matter had better be understood and settled here and now. It is true, we are not slaves of any administration.—You shall not set the blacks free and epislave white men. We know no Government which is not based upon the Constitution, and we will neither obey nor be "lnyal" to any other. Is my language sufficiently precise? sis it clear? I do not wish to be misunderstood. Large not "love" stood and settled here and now. It is true, wish to be misunderstood. I am not "loyal" to any administration; I am ever so to true government, founded upon and acting in cordance with the Constitution, of which t is the mere creature and exponent .-More than this, you nor any living man can demand of any one. To do so is to make yourselves masters and those of whom you make the demand slaves. We wish you to fully understand that you shall never exercise any such power over us. The history of the past should teach you that the race to which we belong may possibly be exterminated, but never enslaved.

To this he made no reply, but showed some emotion and shed a few tears. The account of how Mr. Dearing and Miss Dolan were killed, given by the prisoner to the Inspector, differs from his statement made to the Mayor. WHEREAROUTS OF THE MURDERER. It has been ascertained to a certainty that the murderer never left the city. On Saturday night, after committing the deed, eu, as we then believed, and as you subsequently admitted by proceeding to elect a Lakefelt's lager beer saloon in New Market Speaker, a resolution was offered on the opposite side of this absorbance. he repaired to a brothel near Front and near Willow. In the evening he left his value in the charge of the landlord and stayed all night at a house near Front and Brown streets. On Monday he again went to Lakefelt's and remained there till Tues day morning, when he left without paying for his lodging and meals, and Mrs. Lakefelt took possession of the value, intending to keep it as a security for the payment o his board. Tuesday night he remained in a house of ill fame. From Wednesday till

There, as he sat at a table, a man began to read to the others, who were drinking beer, an account of the discount of the disc beer, an account of the discovery of the murder published in a German paper. Probet listened without betraying any emotion, nor did he blanch when he heard the expressions of horror and rage around, him. He was even appealed to by one of the company, who said, "What do you think? Isn't it a shame that a German should have done this and disgraced his countrymen?" Probet made no reply, and pretended to be asleep, with his hat drawn over his eyes. But immediately afterward a German who knew him entered, and proposed a game of cards. Probet consented at once and in the intervals of shuffling and dealing had the hardihood to read the ac-

WHAT BECAME OF THE STOLEN MONEY, It has been discovered that while Probat was wandering about Front and Market streets, he had another man with him.—They were drinking together, and the anknown man, it is stated, remarked to the keeper of a saloon, "This German has got, a lot of money and he talks about going to Germany. If he keeps on this apree he will lose it, and I am going to play for it." The bodies were laid out in neat shrouds and placed in coffins, having on their lids the names of the deceased in order, with silver plates to designate them, as follows Cornelius Carey, died April 7, 1866, aged burning a number of candles in accordance with the usages of the Catholic Church, of which the deceased were members. VIEWING THE RAMAINS. At the hour of ten o'clock, the gate leading to the premises of the undertaker was thrown open, and all having tickets of admission were permitted to enter for the purpose of viewing the bodies as they lay in their coffins. The scene was most sol-emn and affecting. Old and young, as they vitnessed the mutilated remains, gave vent to their feelings of sympathy by suppressed sobs, which at times became almost audible in spite of their endeavors to hide them.— As the crowd passed in front of the different bodies, they were required to leave the premises by the front door, in order to make room for those who followed them.

AN AWFUL SCENE, About noon the relatives of the massa-cred family reached the residence of Mr. Gardand to take their final parting with the death-bound group of parents, children and friends. When their arrival was announced the room was cleared of persons, with several exceptions, and the surgiving kindred were ushered into the presence of the dead. The effectionate grand-father leading by the hand the bright lad Willie Dearing, were first to enter, followed by those who mourned with them. An appalling scene ensued. Father, mother, brothers, sisters, the baby and the kind. Cornelius Carey were before little Willie fearfully still in death. The death wounds of their cruel execution were fresh within view. Grief melted the heart of the deso-late child and his good protector, and wind-ing about the field of dead both wetted with pure tears the dear faces of those they loved so well. Where is the baby, my father! dear Johnny! and so would be sought the bodies of them all. Other heart-rending incidents might be joined with the names of several survivors but the sorrowful hour passed. All stood in awa as burning laye and innocence gave up the ties of life. APPEARANCE OF THE STREETS.

The streets through which the funeral moved were lined by a multitude of anxious ing it, and having a majority, effected its spectators, who appeared to be much imaged ment, and thus defeated the original pressed with the scene thus presented.— The fences and stops leading to the dwellings along the route were also completely filled, in many instances with men, women and children.

ARRIVAL AT THE CEMETERY. recound the road lead ing to St. Mary's Cemetery was completely, besieged by the crowd, and it was with some difficulty at times that the vehicles could pass to the inclosure. HON. EDGAR COWAN.

"Renegade" is the political term the Radical papers condescend to bestow upon Senator Cowan. From what is he a rangegade? Not from the principles of the old. Whig party, for it never held that the chief end of the American government was to keep black men in bacon through the operation of the Freedmen's Bureau. Not from the resolution of Congress defining the object of the war, for that looked to a speedy restoration of the Union. Those who denounce Senator Cowan as a " senegade" are the worst of renegades themselves. They have run away from all the promises they have made to the people throughout the whole war. They have been guilty of fraud. They have obtained popularity under false pretences. They have proven themselves political "confidence men" of the most unscrupulous kind." With professions of devotion to the Union coastantly in their mouths for the last five years, their great delight now is to embarrass and nullify the efforts of good men and true patriots like President Johnson and Senator Cowan to restore the Union .- Lancaster Intelligencer.

With which of the two great parties now dividing the country will ou co operate? Are you for the negro or the white mun? If you coincide with me in opinion, then I entreat you to assemble with the Democrats, and all others of similar yiews in your respective counties, and send your wisest and best men to Louisville, to hold counsel together to save the State, and restore the Union as our immortal Revolutionary fathers made it. The recent veto message of President Johnson, and the action of the Senate sustaining it, is calculated to warm the hearts of freemen, and give hope that the usurpers and tyrants in Congress will soon be put down, and honest men take their places,"

TRIUMPH OF CIVIL LIBERTY. A very important case was recently tried

United Supreme Court of the States, involving the constitutionality of the trial of citizens not in the military ser-vice, by Court Martial. The case was the appeal from a United States Court in Indiana to the Supreme Court of the United States. Three citizens of Indiana.had been puenes and sentenced to death. Lincoln approved of the finding and sentence, and the victims were to have been hung on the 19th of May, 1865. A writ of habeas corpus was taken out, and the matter was brought before a Circuit Court of the United States and thence it went to the Supreme Court. On the beginning of March, 1866, the case was aigued at Washington, before all the Judges, and a large number of the most eminent Attorneys were concerned for and against the prisoners, who lortunately had to this time been saved from death, but of the West. The question was, can the bureau of Military Justice organize a Court Martial and try before it a citizen not connected with the army or navy, in a State where the Courts are open for the trial of priminal offences. It will be recollected how in the dark days of despotism, men were dragged out of their beds and sent to go forts, upon the tinkling of a bell; now Demoorats manfully denounced the accurated proceeding; how they scorned the idea that of tizen could be brought under the Martingals.

Thus has civil received its death-ulow in the house by friends—this decision having been made by a Court-the majority of the Judges of which

HIT BETWEEN THE EYES,

An ignoramus named Nye, who has somehow found his way into the United States Senate from Nevada, tried to cast a slur on President Johnson one day last week, but only succeeded in bringing out a fact which his shrewder Radical associates in the Senate would gladly have concealed. Senator Johnson, of Maryland, in concluding his reply to Senator Trumbull on the Negro Rights bill, said; Thave but one word more, Mr. President; my friend adverts in rather severe terms to the President. The President stated that. in his opinion, the bill is unconstitutional, and thinking so, it was his duty to interpose his objections. If he had not done so he would have been false to his plighted faith.

As to any suspicion of disloyalty against him, his whole political course disproves that. In 1861 I was here, but not a member of the Senate; and I heard him standing in the midst of those who were plotting to destroy the Union, and, in words that butned, denounced their attempts at rebellion.

Mr. Nye-Will the Senator allow me to ask him a question?

Mr. Johnson-Certainly. Mr. Nye-Did he not at the same time admit the right of secession? Mr. Johnson—Certainly not. Quite the reverse. The most prominent public mun who ad- [Jan. 22, 1866.] NORRIS'S. ented it was the lute tomented President Lincoln in a speech in 1817.

The second time that you called, finding me still gaining, you gave me encouragement, raying, "my symptoms were improving; the Pulmonic Syrup, Sea-weed Tonia and Mandrake Pills had acted like a charm." My circulation, my cough my appetite, all began to improve, and I could walk about my room a little. You visited me nearly every Tuesday, and found me improving and told me not to go out of my room until the first day of May. I took no cold while under your treatment, my appetite became first-rate, and you told me to eat everything I wished of a nutritious nature, and to exercise BALSAMIC CORDIAL, on wished of a nutritious nature, and to exercise about the room as much as possible. Dr. Schenck-Dear Sir:-About two years When we first commenced manufacturing ago I was taken with a very troublesome cough When we first commenced manufacturing the Expectorant for our home consumption it was not our intention nor our desire to put it before the public as a "cure-all," nor to publish a long list of testimonials as an evidence of its curative properties, but the demand for it being so great and decidedly on the increase, has induced, and in fact compelled us to protable it on a much larger scale, and also to establish agencies throughout this section of the country.

All we ask is that those thus afflicted may give it a fair trial, that it may prove its many spirit-world. I was confined to my bed two give it a fair trial, that it may prove its many spirit-world. such remedies only as have been tried for years and are known to possess powerful anthelmintic virtues, combined with mild aperients, pleasant aromatics and sugar. Anthelmintics of themselves cannot perform their peculiar functions or have the desired effect, unless the bowels are kept moderately open. To produce this, gentle purgatives are necessary and such only ought to be used that cannot interfere with the anthelmintic employed. The advantages we claim for this Syrup are:

1st. Its power of DESTROYING AND EXPELLING WORMS!

2d. Its mild aperient effect upon the bowels.

3d. Its pleasant taste and odor are advantages possessed or claimed by very few Vermitages possessed tages possessed or claimed by very few Verm- Pills brought away great quantities of bile ifuges.
